Welcome to Bad Kleinkirchheim

Dear guests!
Esteemed participants of our joint training!

Especially in the field of health, you read about progress and new achievements in different media every day! Sometimes, however, the necessary background with depth is missing. As a health service provider, we have the task of filtering out the information from the multitude of information that is useful for our everyday life and helps our customers. And in order to broaden our horizons even more, this time we also looked a bit outside the box.

I am therefore particularly pleased that, after a long break, we have again succeeded in aligning our program with an interdisciplinary approach and in bringing many different experts to one place. We hope that there will be lively participation with many interested guests at the this year Day of optometry in Bad Kleinkirchheim.
